Lazer Alley

For the first time at the Wapello County Fair, we are featuring:

“Lazer Alley Inflatables” for Kids of all ages

Lazer Alley will be open Thursday, Friday, and Saturday

A $5.00 Wrist Band purchased at the Fair Ticket Office is good for that day - Kids can leave and re-enter Lazer Alley throughout the day and evening hours with the wristband purchase.

Bryan Martin

Hailing from the oil fields of Louisiana, Bryan Martin lives the stories he writes and country fans are listening. His real-life emotions are inseparable from his songs, as is clearly shown in his breakout hit “We Ride” 78 million cumulative streams and 750K social media followers. He’s opened for artists like Jason Aldean, Brantley Gilbert, Warren Zeiders, and more. Martin made his debut at Nashville’s iconic Grand Ole Opry on August 29. Bryan’s albums, If It Was Easy and Self Inflicted Scars, stem from his burdensome struggles he’s dealt with since his youth. His recently released project, Poets & Old Souls, which includes the everyman anthem “We Ride,” reflects his growth and deep connection with listeners.

Taylor
Austin
Dye

Taylor Austin Dye is a rising country artist from Booneville, Kentucky, known for her bold storytelling and rock-tinged country sound. Over the past year, Dye has hit several major milestones: she signed a coveted publishing deal with Warner Chappell Music, made her Grand Ole Opry debut in November 2024, and independently released her sophomore album Sick of Me – which earned over 1 million streams by its first week. Her viral single “Rest In Peace” became a breakout hit (even topping the iTunes country chart and garnering millions of views), helping to amass a loyal fanbase of “Ride or Dyes” across more than 1.2 million social media followers.
